TO THE CLASS OF 1994:

It's been said that what the mind can conceive and believe, it can achieve. Life is full of stories of people achieving unusual success despite all manner of obstacles and handicaps. Your high school diploma is foundation upon which to envision and build your dreams and aspirations. You can become what you think about. When you become possessed by an exciting goal, you will reach it. That's why it's also been said, "Be choosy, there, what you set your heart upon. For if you want it strongly enough you'll get it."

I wish you much success in pursuit of your dreams and goals.

Richard Kisiel
Superintendent of Schools

ADMINISTRATION

TO THE CLASS OF 1994:

Last September we gathered in the auditorium for your first meeting with me as a senior. I remember telling you at that time that every senior class is different and leaves it's own indistinguishable mark on the school. You have done that - in your own unique way. That meeting which happened so long ago seems like yesterday, and now I must contemplate saying good-bye to the class of 1994. I wish you well. I hope that you will have years and years of happiness. You can be certain that all of us will be pulling for you and wishing you the very best of everything. Good luck class of 1994.

Marshall Sawyer
Principal

'O THE CLASS OF 1994:

It is my hope that when you reminisce about the years you spent at D-R it will bring mostly pleasant nemories, and that you took advantage of the educaional, social, and competitive opportunities made vailable to you by the citizens of Dighton and ehoboth. I wish each and every one of you a ifetime of good health, good fortune, and continued earning throughout your lifetime.

George H. Petrin
Assistant Principal

TO THE CLASS OF 1994:

Your years at Dighton Rehoboth have helped to build a firm foundation for the future. Oppotunities for knowledge, skills, values, understanding and friendship have been plentiful. Grow from your past experiences and set your goals high for tomorrow. Use the gifts and talents you have to live life the fullest. May real success be with you, The class of 1994.

Francis M. Marcille
Assistant Principal
Director of Occupational Eduction

'O THE CLASS OF 1994:

"Don't let your fears stand in the way of your lreams."

I wish you well as you seek to find your niche in ife. Whatever that may be, I hope it brings you appiness and fulfillment.

My congratualations to you. I have enjoyed vorking with you the past four years. I wish the ery best, now and always.

mbers of the class of 1994 wish to express their sinccere sympathy to the family and friends of Ryan Stapleton and Shawn ody. They were true friends to all of us, and they will always remain in our hearts.

Remember

Remember me when I am gone away,
Gone far away into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go, yet turning to stay.
Remember me when no more, day by day,
You tell me of our future that you planned;
Only remember me; you understand
It will be late to counsel then or pray

Yet if you should forget me for awhile
And afterwards remember, do not grieve;
For if the darkness and corrupion leave
A vestige of the thought that I once had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.

Emily Dickinson

Remember me at some moment which is pleasant to recall, but not for long --
- while you live, let your thoughts be with the living.

The 1993-94 school year was a very productive one for the D-R Student Government. Preside Rebekah Doyle followed through on her campaign promise and led the effort to initiate a paper-recycli program at D-R. Vice-President Erika Field, Recording Secretary, Artemis Christodulou, Correspor ing Secretary Meredith Reba, and Treasurer Cynthia Creel, along with Rebekah formed a very effecti leadership team that provided our Student Government with new direction and purpose. Commun service, staff and student recognition, involvement in school issues and educational reform, and sch spirit and pride were areas that were focused on.

The D-R Student Government was once again recognized as a Five Star Council by the MASC its continued involvement at the local, state, and national levels. Erika Field served as one of thr regional delegates to SEMASC and provided our council with a broader perspective. Mr. Sawyer w unanimously chosen as the: "Administrator of the Year" for his dedication to student activities and w honored at the MASC Annual Conference. Seniors Adrienne O'Connell, Dera-Jill Lamontagne, a Rebekah Doyle were recognized as Commonwealth Award recipients.

)-R Chorus

This year's senior class can boast of having the school's largest and best Chorus. There were ety-seven members in the group that performed whenever they could. The started the year with the nual Harvest Breakfast. During the winter two traditional concerts were held, a Secular Concert, at ool, and a Sacred Concert at St. Joseph's Church in North Dighton, and the Christmas assembly.
enty-four students became members of Pro-Musica our traveling tour group. In the spring we formed our Annual "Pops" Concert in the gym with food and drink being served by the Music osters. There are wonderful memories within this group!

Concert Band

This year's senior class is responsible for reviving the Concert Band at D-R. When they entered high school the band consisted of only thirteen memberbers. It now has forty-eight. The band formed a Secular Winter Concert at school and a Sacred Concert at St. Joseph's N. Dighton with Chorus. In the spring it played in "Pops" Concert and Graduation. The seniors leave large shoes he underclassmen to fill. We will miss them.

FOOTBALL

The 1993 D-R Football Team was hard hit by injuries throughout the season. Despite the loss of some talented players, the squad was able to pull out three hard-fought victories over Apponequet, Coyle, and Seekonk. The Seekonk win was the 5th consequtive time the Falcons have defeated the Warriors on Thanksgiving. The victory also marked the first time in 25 years that the Falcons have lead in the traditional series.

This year's holiday classic was a great defensive struggle, with D-R pulling out a 6-2 victory. The game was highlighted and eventually decided by two great D-R goalline stands, in which Seniors George Solas and Jared Woods made big plays to keep Seekonk out of the end zone. The only points the Falcons would need came on the last play of the first half when quarterback Jeremy Benoit tossed a picture-perfect 45 yrd. pass to split end Greg Tracey in the end zone. The Falcons then escaped with their 5th consecutive victory on Thanksgiving.

SOCCER

The 1993 season proved to be one of the most successful in the school's short history of soccer. The team had an overall record of eight wins, seven losses, and three ties while missing tournament qualification by three points. The team's fourth place finish also represented D-R's best finish in the competitive conference. The team was in a rebuilding phase but did not show it due to the work of the three senior tri-captains: Matt Christopher, Matt Levinson, and Ed Mota. Kevin White, Chris Biello, Matt Christopher, Casey Perry, and Ed Mota all earned numerous post-season honors. Sophomore Kevin White was unanimously named to all of the area All-Star teams and was named to the prestigious Division II All-State Team.

VOLLEYBALL

The 1993 Girls' Vollyball Program got itself into post-season play once again with another outstanding season. While only gaining a 7 and 7 record in the South Coast Conference, the Falcons achieved and 6 and 0 record in non-conference competition. Pacing the Falcons were three seniors. The hitting and blocking of co-captain Jodie Semas and Beth Giles and the disciplined offense run by co-captain Tara McConaghy directed the otherwise young Falcons through a highly competitive season.

GOLF

This year's golf team showed great improvement from last season, in which it won only two matches. The team's overall record of 13 wins, 5 losses earned the linksters a trip to the State Qualifier for the first time since 1989. A 10-2 South Coast Conference record gave D-R sole possession of second place, one game behind first place Apponequet. Several team members earned individual honors at the end of the season. Captains Kevin Torres and Chris Young were named to the South Coast, Attleboro Sun, and Fall River Herald All Star teams. Sophomore Mike Grasley was also named to the Attleboro Sun team. Junior Sean McConaghy and freshman Shawn Cronin were South Coast honorable mention selections. Important contributions to the team's success were made throughout the season by junior Tony D'Aiello and sophomores Matt Collins and Jared Dyer. Future prospects for the team continue to be bright, with hopes for an S.C.C. championshiup the major goal for next season.

intensity, and spirit. Under the leadership of tricaptains Summ

GIRLS' WINTER TRACK

Even though the record of the Girls' Winter Track Team was only 2 and 4, the small team put up quite a fight as two of the losses came in the very last event of the meets. The girls' team did gain wide respect as they placed four girls on the S.C.C. All-Star Squad -- senior tricaptain Jess Carbonneau, juniors Kate Coleman and Julie Medeiros, and sophomore Rachel Poole. Credit also goes to tri-captains Caitlin Sullivan and Tara Holt for their leadership throughout the season.

BASEBALL

The 1994 edition of the Dighton-Rehoboth baseball team enjoyed another successful season, finishing in second place in the South Coast Conference. The team qualified for tournament play for the fifth consecutive year and for the eighth time in the last ten years. Jeremay Benoit was the team's most valuable player and an all-S.C.C. selection batting .480 with 2 homeruns and 23 R.B.I.s. Junior Joel Brown, also an All-S.C.C. selection, led the pitching staff winning four games and losing three with an E.R.A. of 3.10.

After defeating Diman Vocational by a score of 6 to 5 in the opening round, the Falcons lost a heartbreaker to Bellingham in the quarter final round of the state tournament. Trailing 2 to 0 in the 4th inning, Sean Cronin belted a two run homer to even the score. Bellingham scored again in the sixth. In the 7th, with the tieing and go ahead runs on base, the game was called because of rain and Bellingham was declared the winner -- a tough way to end an otherwise successful season.

SOFTBALL

With the loss of five starting players from the 1993 team, the Lady Falcons planned on a tough rebuilding year. Due to a lack of a rollicking attitude, the team worked hard to qualify for the State Tournament.

The team was led by tri-captains Kay Soares, Kate Coleman and Torrey Steele. With their leadership and the all around ability of junior Maria Day, teams throughout the South Coast Conference cringed at the thought of playing the falcons. Great work girls and best of luck in 1995!

GIRLS' TENNIS

The D-R girls' tennis team did not have a winning record but the Lady Falcons were in close competition with the majority of teams that they played. Leading the team in victories was senior first singles player, co-captain Kelly Lange. Kelly was an S.C.C. All-Star and the team's most valuable player. Other seniors who made notable contributions to the team were co-captain Andrea Martin, Jaime Corey, and Cristal Kulpa.

Looking to the future, the team has several strong varsity players returning, including Erika Field, a junior who received an S.C.C. Honorable Mention in 1994. Particularly promising was the progress made by the talented and enthusiastic freshman contingent.

The 1994 girls' track and field sea- n was again successful. The team sted eight victories and placed sec- d in the South Coast Conference. e entire squad deserves credit for s accomplishment. Deserving spe- l recognition for the team's successes e the four captains (Jessica arbonneau, Beth Giles, Jodie Semas d Caitlin Sullivan) whose leadership elled the difference between succes d failure.

The season, like many other sea- ns, was highlighted by the tremen- us accomplishments of both team d individual. The accomplishments, wever, go beyond the acquisition of ces, points, ribbons, and medals. me of the Falcons were able to gain nfidence in their abilities,to grow in turity, and to achieve small personal als. They deserve as much attention d respect as those who gain the cognition by their achievements on track. While not all the athletes will mentioned here, this is both a tribute d celebration for the accomplish- nts of the entire team.

As in 1993, this season also saw three school records highlight the year's individual accomplishments: Jessica Charbonneau set a record in the 800 with a time of 2:23.1; Beth Giles set a record in the javelin with a throw of 123'3" and Rachel Poole established a new high jump record of 5'2.25". The javelin relay team of Beth Giles, Jill MacDonald, and Caitlin Sullivan also reached their goal by setting a new state class C record with a combined throw of 330'1".

The team again performed impressively at the Class C Meet with seven individuals taking medals. Highlighting the meet for the Falcons were Beth Giles who won the javelin and Rachel Poole who won the high jump. Two other track stars also quallified for the state all-class meet. They were Jill MacDonald who placed third in the javelin and Julie Medeiros who took third in the 100 meter dash. Rounding out the medal winners were Kate Hawksley in the triple jump, Jodie Semas in the discus, and Jessica Charbonneau in the 800.

The team placed six members on the S.C.C. All-Star Team with Jill MacDonald, Julie Medeiros. Jessica Charbonneau, Becky Grandmont, Beth Giles and Rachel Poole gaining spots on the list. Jodie Semas and Caitlin Sullivan were given honorable mention.

The team's achievements also included a strong showing at the S.C.C. championship meet where the Falcons captured first place.

This year the list of heroes and heroic achievements were countless. In this track and field program great things came from many people. While the team graduates nine very important members of this year's squad, we look forward to the challenges that the next year will present

HONOR ESSAYS

Adrienne O'Connell, Class President

Today we are filled with bittersweet emotions -- joy and excitement over this long-awaited day and sadness that we may never see some of our friends again--hat this is the end of an era. Seated before you is a group of very special people. Each one is a unique individual with special alents and accomplishments.

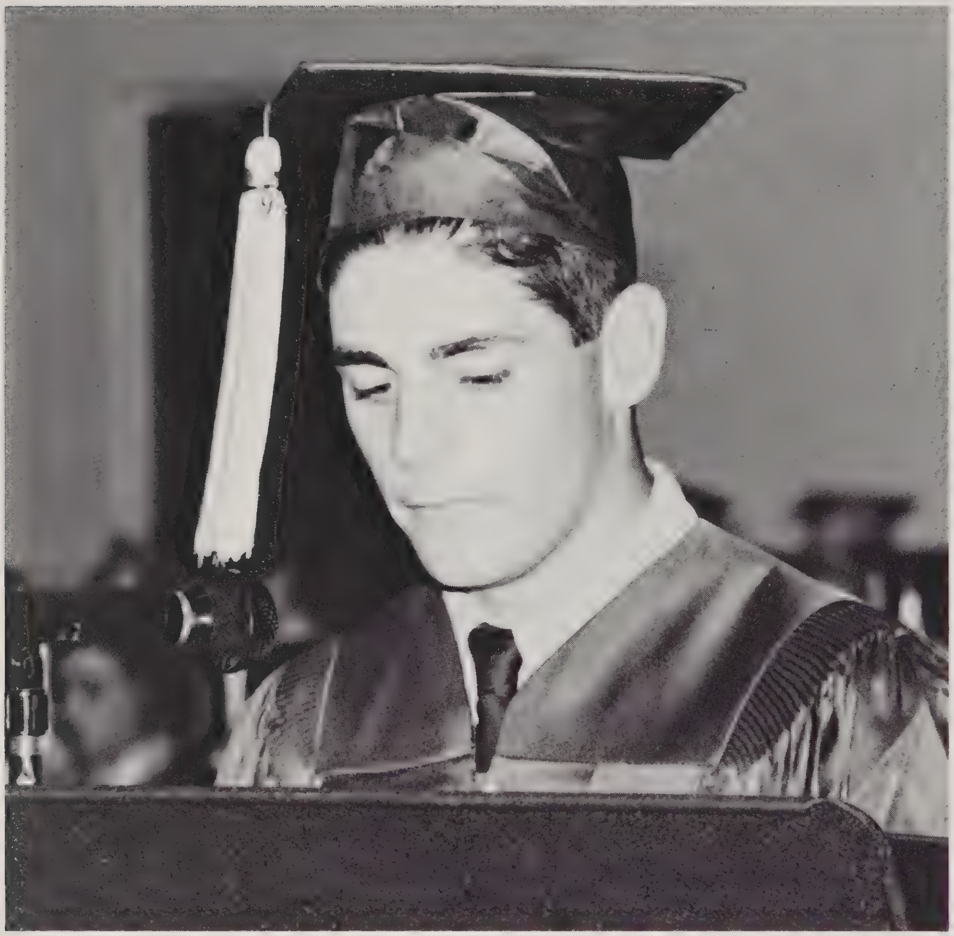
Four years ago, we entered this building each of us with hopes and dreams, unsure of what to expect. As the years went by, new friendships formed, some goals were achieved, and some changed, and memories were created to last a lifetime.

Now we stand before you, four years later, each of us a little older, a little wiser, and filled with a great deal of pride. And for this we have you to thank, our parents, teachers, and friends, for none of our accomplishments could have been achieved without your inspiration and encouragement. You taught us to believe in ourselves and you gave us the support we sometimes needed to make it through. The self-confidnece you've instilled in us will make the road that lies ahead a little easier to travel. For this we thank you all. Among our many accomplishments, the one thing that sets us apart from other graduating classes is the family we've become especially, during this past year. Although we each have our own close friends, a bond has formed among all 176 of us. Through the worst of times, we've stuck together and helped each other out. It is incredible to see such a diverse group of people care so much about one another. You don't find such a close unit of friends in a class very often. Leaving this family behind next year won't be easy. The security of everything we've ever known in our small towns of Dighton and Rehoboth will be gone. Our first steps into the real world will be difficult, but the lessons we've learned and the times we've shared will always remain to carry us through.

As president of this class, I know each name and face by heart. Together we have been through so much. I thank you, the class of 1994, for all the laughter and the tears and the advice we've shared. You are all a part of me that I will cherish forever.

The best of luck to you all as you begin your new lives and strive toward new goals. I know you will all be successful.

HONOR ESSAYS



Jeff McBride

We are here today as many graduates have been before us. We leave Dighton-Rehoboth with mixed emotions -- excitement about the future, but also sadness about leaving familiar surroundings, teachers, and friends. We look back on our school years together and think about events that have influenced our lives. We recall the heroic Christa McAuliffe, who dreamed about being the first teacher in space, only to have those dreams dashed in a fatal accident; the tearing down of the Berlin Wall in Germany, which dealt a major blow to communism; the men and women who fought in Desert Storm, a war that was brought into our homes and into our lives by the mass media; Dan Jansen who won the gold medal in Lillehammer as a member of the American speed skating team. Dreams. Robert Kennedy once said, "Some men see things as they are and say 'why?'. I dream of things that never were and ask 'why not'"? Because individuals had the vision and the drive to dream things that never were dreamt, the world has changed for the better.

There are many crises in the world. If we choose to follow our vision, we too can overcome the problems that face our nation today. Not everyone has the opportunity to overcome world problems; however, if each member of our class can get involved in making our communities better, we can do great things. We do not have to settle for life's injustices. We as a class can dream about a fair world. We do not have to settle for ignorance and poverty; we do not have to settle for anything less than what is right and just. We can dream about good educaton and prosperity for all. We do not have to live in fear; we can dream about a safe, pleasant world. Robert Kennedy said "Why not?" We too, must say "Why not?" and make a contribution.

I would like to congratualte everyone in this class, the class of ninety-four on graduating. We have shared memories and hopes and dreams. We are a close-knit class. We are ready to try to solve world problems and make a difference. Yes, we are proud of our accomplishments, and we are eager to accept new challenges.

HONOR ESSAYS

Kate Roseman

Some men see things as they re and say 'why?'. I dream of hings that never were and ask Vhy not?'". This quote, our class notto, seems to be quite a fitting ne for the class of 1994. This is class that is made up of acaemics, craftsmen, athletes, eaders, and artists, but most of ll this is a class that is filled with reamers. This is a group that is ot content to simply sit down nd watch as life passes them y. The students before you are eady to face head on the chalenges of adult life and to do their est to make a difference. ighton-Rehoboth Regional High chool has served each one of us well. For some, this school has provided a haven, for others a challenge, but for each and every one of us, D-R has provided a sense of community and family not easily found.

Our teachers, parents, and friends watched as we entered this school as young impressionable freshmen, and they have helped to shape us into the confident, capable young adults we leave here as today. This is a day filled with many emotions. Some of us are excited, others are saddened, and many of us are scared at the thought of leaving the security of the known world that D-R has provided for the past four years. The world that awaits us is an uncertain one, but I believe that with our faith and desire we can use the skills that we have learned to better it. This day may mark the end of our high school careers, but it also marks the beginning of lives filled with hopes, dreams, and immeasurable potential. The friendships and bonds that we have established here at D-R will stay with us forever, helping us to conquer the challenges that lie ahead.

Yes, the future is uncertain, but I believe that we are prepared to face it. Sitting here before you today is a group of people who separately possess their own individual strengths, weaknesses, dreams, and desires. Separately each of us has traveled a road filled with our own expectations, struggles, and triumphs. Today, after four years of pursuing a dream that once seemed impossible, our individual roads have converged into one inevitable and wonderful path. Standing separate and alone, the class of 1994 is many things, but standing together and united, we are the future.

A final word from the editors:

Dear Seniors:

Can you believe it? It finally came -- graduation!! These past four years have gone by so fast! Through the good times and bad times, the Class of '94 has always stayed together. That is what made our class number one!

The difference between the impossible and the possible is determination. The Class of '94 showed a lot of determination. We made a lot of things possible when others thought they would never be.

Mindi and I would like to take this opportunity to thank Adrienne O'Connell, Jill Mac Donald, Dera-Jill Lamontagne, Ellen Crouch and the remainder of the staff for their effort and support throughout the year.

Special thanks go out to:

Mr. Joe Geoffroy and Mr. Paul Deroche of Chestnut Hill Studios

Mr. Arnie Lohman of Josten's Publishing and Mr. David Harwood, our advisor.

Sincerely:

David Hartley
